DESPERATE BATTLE.

It is Now Being Fought in Chili.

THE DECISIVE STRUGGLE.

Balmaceda's Soldiers Vainly Oppose the Crossing of the Aconcagua, and After a Desperate Fight, in Which 3,000 Were Killed and Wounded, Are Forced to Fall Back—Land Forces Aided by Warships.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The following particulars of a bloody battle have been received by The Herald from Valparaiso, Chili.

President Balmaceda and the Junta de Gobierno are clinched in the final desperate struggle for the mastery of the republic of Chili.

The battle ground is in full view of the city of Valparaiso, and thousands of anxious eyes are watching from every point of vantage the battle which is to decide the fate of the country.

The battle has been raging practically for three days. The first engagement was at the mouth of the Aconcagua on Friday and resulted in a reverse to the government. The final test of strength is now being made at Vina del Mar Beach, directly across Valparaiso bay and less than five miles away. When the news reached here that an army of 6,000 rebels had landed at Quintero bay, Thursday, Balmaceda and his generals were taken by surprise, but the utmost activity was used in getting troops to the front so as to, if possible, prevent the invading army from crossing the Aconcagua river, immediately south of the bay. The arrangements were made hurriedly, and only a little over half the troops were available for this purpose.

Six of the insurgent warships were anchored in Cosnon bay, at the mouth of the river, and under the cover of their guns the army of the junta undertook the task of forcing a passage of the river Friday morning.

A most desperate and bloody battle resulted, lasting nearly all day. A galling fire from the insurgent army, which was parked on the northern bank of the river, aided by the heavy batteries and machine guns from the ships, was too much for the government troops, and they were forced to retire, which they did in good order.

Both sides fought with the utmost valor, and while less than 20,000 troops were engaged, the list of casualties are nearly 3,000 in killed and wounded.

All day long Saturday the insurgent forces pushed their way steadily forward, driving the comparatively small government forces before them. It was a constant skirmish for fifteen miles, over broken country. At every point of vantage the Balmacedists made a stand, and while they were constantly forced to give way before superior numbers, they retarded the advance and gave the army at Vina del Mar a chance to better prepare itself for the decisive fight.

It was not until late in the evening that the attacking army arrived in front of Balmaceda's main line of defense. It was then too late to give battle. In the meantime President Balmaceda, with every available man in this department, with himself in command, went to the front. He had over 10,000 available fighting men, while the insurgent forces had been reduced to less than 7,000.

At the back of the government line is Fort Callao, the heavy guns of which have done good work in Sunday's battle, both in rallying the enemy by land and preventing the insurgent fleet, which had entered the bay Saturday night, from doing anything more effective than long-range firing. The congressionalists attacked in force Sunday morning, and all day long the battle has raged with the utmost fierceness.

The warships did all they could to aid their land forces, but they had regard for the heavy guns in the forts, and were compelled to do their fighting at long range. Consequently they were not nearly so effective in aiding the land attack as they had been at the passage of the Aconcagua on Friday.

The utmost excitement prevails in this city. The roar of heavy artillery and the sharp rattle of small arms resound through the streets, and are echoed back from the high hills surrounding the city.

There is a constant stream of wounded being brought into the city from the front, and temporary hospitals are being fitted up wherever possible. Nearly all the women who had not left the city have volunteered their services as nurses, and they and the full medical force of the city have their hands full.

Admiral Brown, commanding the American fleet here, and the commanding officers of the other foreign naval forces, have combined to protect the lives and property of foreign citizens.

The Latest from Valparaiso.

LIMA, Aug. 25.—The latest telegraph advices from Valparaiso state that Balmaceda's army at Vina del Mar has repulsed an insurgent attack. The telegram adds that Balmaceda has ordered all the available forces in the province of Valparaiso to concentrate at the capital, and 12,000 troops stationed at Coquimbo to proceed against Quimbo.

Sixty Men Massacred.

HAMBURG, Aug. 25.—The Hamburger Correspondent has an alleged dispatch from Santiago, Chili, saying that, by order of Balmaceda, the cavalry massacred sixty unarmed youths of good family for holding a political meeting on the 19th inst., and great indignation prevails among all classes.

Great Interest Felt in London.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Great interest is felt here in the pending struggle in Chili, as it is believed that the encounter between the forces of the two contending parties near Valparaiso must lead to a speedy end of the contest. The English interest in nitrate, of which Colonel North is the chief representative, are and have been all along friendly to the insurgents, and it is believed that it was through their agency that the insurgents received the arms which enabled them to make their present attack upon the center of Chilian territory. English sympathy with the insurgent cause is general and outspoken, and President Balmaceda is denounced as a despot and a usurper. The expedition has been undertaken in good time, as the Presidente Errazuriz must now be well on her way across the Atlantic and the Pinto is following just as rapidly.

Not Officially Reported to Washington. WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The reported battle between the congressional forces and Balmaceda's troops near Valparaiso has excited considerable interest here, though nothing definite is known and no official information concerning the reported battle has been received by the government.

Mr. Foster, the secretary of the congressional envoy at Washington, said that he had no later information, but that he had reasons to believe that the report from Valparaiso was correct, and he believed that the battle before Balmaceda's stronghold had been fought. "At the last report," he said, "we had been successful up to a certain point and nothing further is yet known. We were in front of the strong fort, Callao, where we were exposed to their heavy guns. When our troops reached that point the worst of it was over and I am confident of a complete victory."

If we have captured Vina del Mar and Fort Callao it is the end of Balmaceda's power. Balmaceda is present himself to keep down insurrection in his own troops. Many of them are in sympathy with us. Valparaiso is the city of our friends; we own it. There would be a demonstration from that quarter but of the fact that the citizens have no means of arming themselves. They cannot fight with cobblesstones.

"But suppose you fail to capture Fort Callao?"

"Then the war will continue. We will fight until Balmaceda has been vanquished. A defeat for Balmaceda now will end him; for us a defeat means merely a prolongation of the struggle."

ATTEMPTED TRAIN WRECKING.

Perpetrators of the Deed Captured and Locked Up.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 25.—A daring attempt was made to wreck the northbound accommodation train from Water Valley to Grand Junction on the Illinois Central yesterday. As the train came in sight of a bridge, about seven miles north of Holly Springs, the engineer noticed that one rail seemed to be unusually elevated. He quickly applied the air brakes and reversed his engine. As the engine went on the bridge it was discovered that a piece of iron, known as a stirrup among bridge men, had been securely fastened to the rail and would have thrown the train from the track. Had the train been going ten miles an hour faster there would have been an awful disaster, but luckily only the front trucks of the engine left the rails.

When the train came to a stop the engineer noticed two negroes sneaking away through the bushes. A posse was speedily organized, and after a chase of several hours caught the two negroes. They gave their names as Will Frost and Will McDowell, and confessed to having done the deed. Frost said McDowell had a large ax, which he intended to use for breaking open the coaches in case of a wreck. The negroes were taken to Holly Springs and jailed. Both have the reputation of being hard characters, and it is thought they intended to wreck the train for the purpose of robbing it.

SHOT BY HER BROTHER.

The Old Story of a Gun That Was Thought to Be Empty.

LIMA, O., Aug. 25.—A sad accident is reported from Dunkirk, east of here and near Ada, on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad. Mr. and Mrs. John Decker were in Ada attending the funeral of George Stokesberry, fondly murdered in the streets of Ada last Friday night. They left the children at home. George Decker, aged 17, was fooling with his father's shotgun and playfully pointed it at his sister Rosa, aged 14. She stood about three feet from the end of the gun. Rosa screamed with terror, but George assured her it wouldn't hurt her and pulled the trigger.

The heavy load of shot entered the right side, cutting off the third and fourth ribs and penetrating the right lung. The girl sank to the floor speechless, but remained conscious to the last—about three hours. Her parents arrived before her death. The scene upon their arrival was heartrending. They returned from the closing scene of one tragedy in the family to witness another more terrible.

The brother is crazed with grief. The unfortunate girl was a prime favorite in the vicinity.

Another Mine Disaster.

MERTHYR TYDFIL, Wales, Aug. 25.—A frightful accident took place in the Abercandid pit, near here, yesterday while all the men were at work. The number of the dead and imprisoned is unknown. Sixty have so far been rescued, and the most exciting scenes among the thousands of people who had flocked around the mouth of the pit. Searching parties have so far taken out only two killed. Many are missing. The searchers are unable to penetrate all parts of the mine owing to the gas.

Used a Mirror.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—Frank Johnson, of New York, last night shot himself in his room in the Bingham house with a forty-one calibre revolver. He was taken to the Jefferson hospital and is not expected to recover. Mr. Johnson registered at the hotel on Friday noon. He is said to be connected with a mining firm. A doctor was immediately summoned. It was found that the man had shot himself in the back of the head, using the mirror to direct the aim.

THIRTY-FOUR DEAD.

Eighty-Eight Others Reported Missing.

A TOTAL OF 122 LIVES LOST.

Such is the Awful Result of the Great Calamity in New York—The Worst Part of the Tragedy Yet to Come—Investigating the Cause of the Explosion.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The work of delving for the dead in the ruins on Park place continues uninterrupted. The total of the bodies recovered from the ruins is thirty-four. The number positively identified is twenty, and the number reported missing eighty-eight. This would indicate that 122 persons lost their lives by the collapse of the building.

The worst part of the tragedy is yet to come, as evidenced by a fearful and overwhelming stench which indicates unknown horrors and an almost inestimable number of bodies buried underneath the weight of rubbish and machinery.

At midnight a terrible stench came from that part of the ruins occupied by the restaurant. It is probable that this spot will add a fearful tale even to the present estimate of the horror.

Early this morning a small foot, ankle and part of a leg, probably a girl's or a boy's, was recovered. The member was badly burned and looked as though it had been burned away from the body.

The workmen are fast clearing away the debris and it seems highly probable that a great number of bodies will soon be recovered.

At 1:30 a. m. another body was found. It was discovered in the site of the restaurant on the west side of the ruins. It was that of a man about thirty years old. It was found in a sitting posture with the right hand pressed to the heart.

A thorough investigation of the causes of the accident has been begun by Superintendent Brady and a force of deputies. It was learned that there was positively no boiler in the building and that the heavy lithographic presses were not working when the accident occurred. The theory that the disaster was directly caused by faulty construction is being borne out by the facts which are slowly coming in.

Inspector Williams, who has been at the scene of the disaster almost from the first moment, says in regard to the probable cause of the accident: "There was no explosion in that building, because there was nothing to explode. The accident was the result of a weak structure and the incessant vibration of the heavy presses."

Yesterday a bystander saw an Italian workman pick up a vest and take a watch and chain out of it. A policeman was called and the Italian arrested with the watch and chain in his possession. He said he intended to give them to his firemen. He was held in $500 bail to answer.

Secretary William Randell, of the board of fire underwriters, issued a call for a meeting of the board today, to consider whether any of the fire insurance companies are liable or not for any damages either to the Taylor building in Park place or to the stock in the flimsy structure.

Mackerel Catch Falling Off.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Aug. 25.—A gentleman, engaged in the purchase of mackerel off the coast of Ireland for three years, writes that the catch of Irish mackerel is only about half that of last year. A large amount of fish were consumed fresh during the spring and but little fish were cured for the American market in consequence. Should the mackerel catch fall off for a few more years in the same ratio as during the past few years, there will be a total failure of this business, says the writer.

Mother of Twenty-five Children.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Rebecca Rubenstein arrived at the barge office today from Odessa, bringing with her twenty-four children. Their ages range from one to twenty-five years. The Rubensteins are in good circumstances and will settle in this city. The father of this interesting family also accompanied the children to this country. Mrs. Rubenstein is 45 years old and is still plump and pretty. She is about to give birth to the twenty-fifth child.

Scarcity of Weavers.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 25.—The production of cloth at this center has been curtailed 20,000 pieces during the past two weeks owing to the scarcity of weavers who are willing to work. Although the price for cloth is one-eighth of a cent lower than ever known previous to the present depression, there is little demand for spots at any figure.

Engineer and Fireman Killed.

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 25.—Two freight trains collided near Palmer, a small station on the Northern Pacific railway, thirty miles east of Tacoma, yesterday afternoon. Engineer David Vound and fireman Frank Cooper, of the west-bound train, were killed. The engineer and fireman of the east-bound train saved their lives by jumping.

Congressman's Wife Dead.

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—Carolina Prescott Wood, wife of Congressman-elect Sherman Hoar, of Waltham, died suddenly yesterday of heart trouble. She had been seriously ill for a week or more, but immediate danger was not considered possible. Her age was thirty years. She leaves two children.

Storm in Pennsylvania.

LANCASTER, Aug. 24.—Sunday night's storm was the heaviest in this county for sixty years. Many buildings were washed away and many live stock drowned.

SONS OF VETERANS.

Tenth Annual Encampment in Session at Minneapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 25.—The tenth annual encampment of the Sons of Veterans began in this city yesterday with about 5,000 members of the order in attendance. This includes, besides the 500 members of the grand commandery which is the executive body, a large number of visiting camps who came to participate in the competitive drill. The official train bearing Commander-in-Chief Webb and his staff arrived yesterday morning over the Minneapolis and St. Louis road.

The grand commandery was called to order shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The session was devoted entirely to routine business.

Commander Webb furnished the following statistics in advance from his annual address: During the year 26,423 members have been taken in; 552 new camps, with 10,320 members, were mustered in. The actual membership of the order today is quite 150,000. The order, founded in 1881, was first officially recognized in August, 1889, by the G. A. R., and has since grown very rapidly.

Mr. Webb outlined as the most important business to come before the commandery at this session certain proposed changes in the ritual and constitution. The age limit for members will be raised from eighteen to twenty-one. Then the military feature of the order will be divorced from the civic feature so that it will bear about the same relation to the work of the order as the military degree of the Knights of Pythias does to the subordinate lodge. This step, it is believed, will greatly aid in popularizing the order.

The active camps now in the city and those to come will be quartered in tents at Minnehaha Falls near the state soldiers' home. This has been christened Camp Webb, and is already largely populated.

The commandery will be in session in Morgan post, G. A. R., hall all week.

INDIANA LYNCHING.

Shelbyville Becoming More Quiet Over Saturday Night's Tragedy.

SHELBYVILLE, Aug. 25.—City Marshal Bruce, who was shot by Charles Hawkins on Saturday night, is resting well and the chances are about even for his recovery. It is the opinion of his physician, Dr. T. C. Kennedy, that he will pull through.

The body of Charles Hawkins, hung by the mob, has been removed to his home near the village of Smithland. The venerable mother of the dead son is prostrated with grief, and it is feared she will not live many days. A damage suit will be brought by the widow against the sheriff and the county for the hanging of her husband.

While the people have no sympathy for Charles Hawkins they are severe in condemnation of the sheriff, who offered practically no resistance to the mob. The town is quiet and it is now believed there will be no more trouble. The hanging of Hawkins will have a good effect on the town and clear out some of the many toughs and murderers who have long proved a terror.

A BARROOM QUARREL.

Jim Hall, the Pugilist, Seriously Stabbed by "Parson" Davies.

MT. CLEMENS, Mich., Aug. 25.—Jim Hall, the pugilist, and "Parson" Davies, who are stopping at the Avery House, Mt. Clemens, got into a quarrel in the barroom at 11 o'clock last night. After a word or two, Hall struck viciously at Davies with a bottle. His arm was caught by a bystander, when he repeated the blow, and Davies grabbed a lemon knife lying on the bar, dodged Hall's blow and lunged at him with the knife, striking him in the throat and cutting a terrible gash from the chin to the ear on the right side and narrowly missing the jugular vein. The two men then separated.

"You've done me, Charlie, but stay by me," said Hall, when struck.

The room, after the fracas, looked like a slaughter pen, everything in it being covered with blood.

Hall will recover. He is considered to blame in the matter, Davies have acted in self-defense.

BASE BALL CONFERENCE.

The American Association and League Trying to Reach an Agreement.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25.—Several officers of the American Association and National League will meet in Washington with a view to forming some agreement by which an end will be put to the hostilities existing between the two organizations. For some reason those interested have endeavored to keep the meeting as secret as possible.

The Association will be represented by President Kramer and Messrs. Von der Ahe, Von der Horst and Phelps, while the League's interests will be advocated by President Byrne, of Brooklyn; President Hart, of Chicago, and John T. Brush, of Indianapolis. The conferees are simply to devise plans for an agreement, and their action will have to be ratified by the two organizations before it will amount to anything.

Rescued After Three Days.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Aug. 25.—The Brainerd party, from Cincinnati and Pittsburg, which was wrecked on Chapel beach, Pictured Rocks, on Tuesday last, was rescued yesterday in a half-starved condition by the tug Fishing Queen. The party consisted of Ira F. Brainerd and wife and W. H. Brainerd, of Pittsburg, and John R. Davey, K. McDougall and J. C. Sheets and wife of Cincinnati. After going ashore at Chapel beach the party took refuge in a cave, but the steam launch was sunk by the storm. Though greatly weakened by a fast of three days with no food but berries, all the party are fairly well save Mrs. Sheets, who is in a quite serious condition. The guides sent through the woods with provisions failed to reach the party.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 25, 1891.

The Farmers' Alliance's demand for a law that will equalize the burdens of taxation is a just one. The new Constitution will regulate that matter, however.

Some Kentucky journals are still busy fixing up a cabinet for Governor-elect Brown. The Governor will undoubtedly attend to that business himself when he assumes the duties of his office.

This is to the point. An exchange says: "Nine-year-old children work from fifteen to eighteen hours a day in Chicago, and are paid 14 cents a day, yet some one has been heard to remark that protection protects labor."

MAJOR G. MATT ADAMS, present Secretary of State, has decided to make his home at Ashland, when he retires from office next week. The Major is looking forward. The Ninth Congressional district will welcome him.

It seems that Catlettburg's sensational newspaper correspondent has been squelched by the citizens of that place. However, he is liable to break loose any day. A threat of tar and feathers made by the people of the place may put a stop to his lying.

The fight for Speaker of the House of the next Legislature grows interesting. Dr. John D. Woods, of Bowling Green, is a full-fledged candidate, making four aspirants now in the field for the position. None of them is better fitted for the Speakership than Dr. Woods.

It seems that the Farmers' Alliance of this district want most everything in sight. They not only demand that a practical farmer be placed in charge of the State Agricultural department, but they think farmers ought to be chosen for Railroad Commissioners.

The Louisville Commercial is spreading it on pretty thick when it says "the people adore Judge Holt." And pray, what has the Judge ever done that the populace should fall down and worship him? Of course, he did come out at the eleventh hour in favor of the new Constitution.

During the campaign of 1888, when protective tariff was the issue, the employees of the Arcade File Works, of Sing Sing, N. Y., one of the largest file manufacturing in America, were promised a large increase of wages if Harrison should be elected. Last week wages were reduced from 30 to 50 per cent., according to the work done. This is another good object lesson in the campaign of education on the tariff question.

TO RIVAL THE POTATO.

The Calla Lily Root to Be Tried as an Esculent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—A new vegetable is about to be introduced to the people of the United States through the Department of Agriculture. It is nothing more or less than the root of the calla lily, which resembles somewhat in appearance the ordinary Irish tuber, with the addition of a few whiskers that have nothing to do with the case or with the qualities of the article as an esculent. However, it is more elongated, and, when cut, the interior is a trifle more viscid. But a section of it is so potato-like that you would not be likely to distinguish any difference. In cooking, it has first to be boiled, in order to destroy certain acid properties, after which it may be fried, roasted, baked, or what not, according to taste.

Farmers in Florida have begun to raise these calla roots for market. The plants grow readily in swamps, and so thickly that the yield of a single flooded acre is enormous. They reproduce themselves by the multiplication of their bulbs underground, so that the grower has simply to dig up the offshoots and leave the parents to propagate anew. For centuries the Egyptians have cultivated a similar crop during the seasons of the Nile overflow, and at the present time calla lily bulbs are a common vegetable in Japanese markets. So prolific and palatable are they that their propagation in many parts of the United States, where conditions are favorable, may reasonably be looked forward to as an agricultural industry of the future.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

F. S. Verheek, who represents the type foundry of Messrs. Barnhart Bros. & Spindler, Chicago, says: "On my return home from a trip I found our little girl sick with summer complaint. I went to a drug store and procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We gave her a few doses according to directions. She recovered in a short time and we were well pleased with the medicine." For sale by Power & Reynolds.

CHECKERS.

Will Andres, of Portsmouth, Gives Dick Estill, of Paris, Some Straight Talk.

Editor Bulletin: I am a seeker after knowledge. Reason, observation and experience is my trinity and my motto.

Now, I write you in order to reach one "Dick" Estill, who claims to have a wonderful secret regarding the game of checkers locked up in his intellectual dome. His card about it I have read, and having read it beg leave to inform him that he has "entered a link in his chain that will blind him to the rack." Under the claims and conditions he sets forth he could be victimized to an almost unlimited extent. He claimed among other things that his secret would "enable one person to play as good as another," and that it would destroy the "beautiful science" of the fascinating art. Such assertions are too broad, too sweeping to be practically demonstrated; in fact, such claims to checker players are obviously absurd, and tend, of course, to make them smile and laugh. He says he has been a student of checkers for fourteen years. That being so, let him answer in your next issue these questions: What is "the move"? Define homologous? What is meant by squares? What is a capture? What are counters? What are homologous counters? What is meant by "a capture from the odd set," and "a capture from the even set"? Give the theory of the move and the method of calculating the same? And last, but not least, let him state the general rule of captures and counters and its forms?

Mr. Estill bases his secret upon the old system of numbering the board, viz: From 1 to 32. Does he not know this system only answers a single purpose—that of enabling the student to play published games from book and paper? That any other purpose it is wholly incapable of subserving? And that it, indeed, conveys an inaccurate idea of the mutual relations of the squares? Further, can it be that Mr. E. is not familiar with Patterson's Notation, known as the "Natural System of Numbering the Board"? By this latter the board is numbered instead of 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, etc.; 28, 18, 68, 88, 17, 37, 57, 77, 26, 46, 66, 86, 15, 35, 55, 75, 21, 41, 61, 81, 13, 33, 53, 73, 22, 42, 62, 82, 11, 31, 51, 71. Thus, if a piece is placed on square 51, it is in the fifth vertical row and in the fourth square from the bottom. "If, for a moment, we were to suppose the vertical rows to be called streets, and the individual squares places of residence in these streets, the simplification of the system becomes beautifully apparent. Thus, a man on square 57 is located in the fifth street, No. 7. A man placed on square 86 resides in the eighth street, which is the last in order. What number? No. 6. It would be a vain task to attempt to elicit any such information as to the whereabouts of a piece upon the old system and for that matter by Estill's phenomenal (?) plan that at present is in hiding from the checker world; and the most expert proficient in draughts would be absolutely puzzled by a few questions of this kind in regard to the existing numbers with which he is familiar."

Estill has great confidence in his ability as a checker player, and throws out a sweeping challenge to the world. Does he mean business? If he does, let him send me his challenge in writing and I will see to it that he is accommodated. There are many number of players who will meet him for money. He seems to prefer Robert T. Thomas, of Maysville, and in my opinion he need go no farther. In this young man I think he will find more than his match. From Maysville it would be worth his while to go to Covington and meet and play E. H. Richardson, the boy champion of the United States. And to get beautifully satisfied it would be well to ride down to Richmond, Ind., and contest with T. J. Brown, about whom 'tis written:

"Holy angels! cast thy pitying glances down,
And soothe the checker player who meets that terror Brown."

Trusting that I have set "Dick" Estill on a way to make money and a big reputation, I remain yours cheerfully, etc.,

WILL S. ANDRES, Portsmouth, O.

Weekly Crop Bulletin.

The weekly crop bulletin for the week ending August 21, issued by the Kentucky State weather service in co-operation with the United States Weather Bureau says:

"The general effect of the past week's weather conditions has been favorable to all crops, except that in some few places complaint is made of injury to tobacco by excessive rains. The temperature showed a considerable excess in most parts of the State, while the abnormal cloudiness developed a deficiency in sunshine. The rainfall came in the form of local thunder showers, but though their great frequency and general distribution, most parts of the State were covered by them. The present outlook for corn is the best for many years, and it is safe to say that the crop is now assured. Tobacco is not so promising, although in places the crop will be good. Other crops present excellent prospects, from the present outlook.

Railway News.

The annual report of the Railroad Commissioners of Kentucky has been finished and put into the hands of the Governor. The principal roads of the State in mileage are as follows: Louisville and Nashville, 1,033.92; Chesapeake and Ohio, 276; Kentucky Central, 250; Cincinnati, N. O. and T. Pacific, 197.93; Maysville and Big Sandy, 153.02; Louisville Southern and connections, 126.00; Louisville, St. Louis and Texas, 121.40; Elizabeth, Lexington and Big Sandy, 109.19; Ohio Valley, 104.15. The remaining mileage aggregating 3,000.14 miles is made up of roads less than 100 miles in length. The report shows that 167.58 miles of new roads were finished during the year 1890, the period upon which the report is made.

FIGURES OF MOMENT.

Comments of the New York World on This Country's Big Wheat Crop.

"The figures of the actual yield of the great wheat belt of the United States exceed the most sanguine expectations," says the New York World. "For Kansas the President of the Farmers' Alliance estimated the total yield at 42,000,000 bushels, and the Agricultural Department predicted 60,000,000. It is now evident that there will not be less than 70,000,000 bushels. In Minnesota the estimate of the total yield has risen to 60,000,000 bushels. These two States contributed to the largest crop of wheat which the country has yet raised—that of 1889—only a little over 76,000,000 bushels. This year they will yield at least 130,000,000 bushels, an increase of 71 per cent. over 1889. Let anything approaching to this rate of increase apply to Iowa, Nebraska, North and South Dakota and Washington, and we shall have a wheat crop not only beyond any previous experience, but greatly exceeding all the estimates made of it. The total crop of 1889 was 490,560,000 bushels. With the harvest of two States already showing an increase over 1889 of 54,000,000 bushels, it is surely within a modest range of probability to look for a gain of 160,000,000 throughout the entire country.

"This would give a total wheat harvest for the United States of 650,000,000 bushels. At the average home value of 1889 this would mean a solid addition to the wealth of the country of $112,000,000 over the estimated value of that year's comparatively abundant crop. But the bushel price at the farm of this year's wheat yield is not likely to be below a dollar, and it is thus entirely within the range of probability that against a home value of $342,500,000 for the crop of 1889 we shall have a value of $650,000,000 for that of 1891. This would be an astounding gain, yet it is but part of the enormous profit which the country must reap this year from its harvest of food products. Socially, financially and politically, these figures will be found to have a tremendous significance."

Another estimate places the value of this year's wheat crop in the United States at $550,000,000; corn, at $2,500,000,000; oats, at $300,000,000; cotton, at $346,000,000, and wool at $150,000,000. While the crops are unusually good in this country, the reverse is true in Europe, and there will be a big export demand for our grain. The American Agriculturist believes that, unless unexpected influences wholly change the current of events, the value of corn on the farm will average in December fully fifty cents a bushel, wheat $1 per bushel, and oats at least forty cents.

It is estimated by Parisian financiers that France alone will import American wheat to the value of more than $100,000,000.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Furnished by Glover & Durrett, proprietors Louisville Tobacco Warehouse.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 3,388 hhds., with receipts of 2,962 hhds. for the same period. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 161,325 hhds. Receipts and sales for the past week have been larger than for the week previous. Owing to its crowded condition the market has been somewhat irregular but the color grades from common to fancy continue very strong, also the fine fillers; but common red fillers continue to be to some extent neglected; other grades remain about the same.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for new leaf tobacco:

REV. JOHN JAY DICKEY, of Jackson, well known in this county, will be a member of the State Board of Education under Superintendent Thompson. Those who know Mr. Dickey know him to be thoroughly qualified for the position. He has been a zealous worker in the cause of religion and education for years.

OWING to complaint of patrons on account of the congregation of duds, black and white, who loiter and smoke cigarettes in and about the postoffice, the Mayor yesterday fined three young gentlemen $3.45 each for this offense. The authorities are determined that the post-office shall be kept free from this nuisance.

LADY ETHEL, owned by Colonel Stoner; Lizzie Mac, owned by L. L. Dorsey; Jennie R., owned by Frank Burgin, and the three-year-old pacer Tom McGregor, owned by Thomas Muir, were all sick during the races last week. Jennie R. did not start, Lady Ethel and Lizzie Mac had two heats in their races. All were able to be shipped except Tom McGregor. He will be here for some time. Dr. Paris Wheeler had them under treatment. Tom McGregor alone is said to be worth $15,000.

HIGGINSPORT's pugilistic editor Wm. M. Hundley is now fighting a divorce suit brought by his wife, Mary S. Hundley. They were married at Falmouth last June. She alleges that he threatened violence to her and bodily harm to her and her family, and that he would be revenged upon them if she did not marry him. In that way she was put in fear of him and consented to the marriage. She did not, she says, consent willingly, but was forced to it through fear of him. She asks for a divorce and restoration to her maiden name.

THE New York Sun says that "Count" Mitkiewich and "Shoe-box" Miller recently attempted to swindle Frank P. O'Brien, the Birmingham (Ala.) editor, out of $10,000 by getting him interested in a Chinese banking scheme. They showed him letters and telegrams purporting to be from the Chinese Minister, Senator Blair, Col. Shepard and others. O'Brien was put on his guard by W. C. MacBride, the Washington newspaper man, and broke off the negotiations after proving that the scheme was a fraud. Mitkiewich and Miller are the men young Mosby attempted to kill at Washington City a few days ago.

AT the annual meeting of the colored Royal Arch Masons of Kentucky the following officers were chosen: J. D. Ware, G. H. P., Lexington; J. H. Wilson, D. G. H. P., Maysville; George Sutton, G. K., Louisville; Henry Campbell, G. S., Maysville; Thomas Kelly, Grand Treasurer, Paris; George Taylor, Grand Secretary, Louisville. At the tenth annual Grand Conclave of the Independent Grand Commandery of Knights Templar the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Sir Knight S. D. Martin, G. E. C., Louisville; J. D. Ware, G. D. E. C., Lexington; A. B. Jones, G. G., Maysville; J. R. Walker, G. C. G., Maysville; Thomas Kelly, G. T., Paris; M. P. Clay, G. R., Lexington; H. C. Smith, G. S. W., Paris; George Sutton, G. J. W., Louisville.

Allerton's record of 2:12 is now the five-year-old record for stallions, although not made on a regulation, but a kite-shaped track. The question of kite track records is one destined to provoke controversy in the near future.

John Day, the horse that won the first dash in the half-mile running race at the Maysville fair Friday, finished the half in :51. This is the time Marion C. made her first half at Garfield Park Saturday, when she beat the great Kingston and won $10,000. John Day is owned by a young blacksmith of Lexington.

THE Dwyer brothers were butchers with a stall in Washington market fifteen years ago. Their first venture in horsemanship was made in 1876, when they purchased a third interest in the black colt Rhadamantus. Before the end of the year they owned four thoroughbreds and their winnings were over $17,000. During the twelve following years they won fully $1,000,000 in stakes and purses.
